SKILLS TEAM NEWS

Skills Hub

A message from

Chris Starkie (CEO, New Anglia Local Enterprise Partnership)

Vince Muspratt (Director of Growth and Development, Norfolk County Council)

Adrian Orr (Assistant Director for Education, Skills and Learning, Suffolk County Council) and

Claire Cullens (Chair of the Skills Advisory Panel)

Building on existing forms of working, New Anglia LEP, Norfolk County Council and Suffolk County Council have agreed to strengthen and formalise how they work together on sector-specific skills needs across the region. This way of working - known as the 'Skills Hub' partnership - will help to utilise LEP and County Council resources and capacity as effectively as possible across the two counties in order to support the regional skills agenda.

The 'Skills Hub' reinforces the collaborative manner in which the partner organisations have worked in recent years, including activity in relation to the Skills Advisory Panel and the development of pan Norfolk and Suffolk programmes such as the Skills Deals programme, and more recently, the Norfolk and Suffolk Skills Bootcamps Programme. The expectation is that this form of working will enable the organisations to maximise the impact of current resources and officer time, collectively increasing levels of engagement with key stakeholders and covering more ground.

The primary focus of the 'Skills Hub' partnership will be on workforce development and in-work progression. The first tranche of work to be undertaken by the relevant organisations - as part of a Skills Hub workplan - will involve supporting the sector skills groups that exist across the region and providing aligned LEP and County Council input into, as well as support for, the Local Skills Improvement Plan (LSIP) planning process being led by the Norfolk and Suffolk Chambers of Commerce.

sustainable employment through Steadfast Training; 39 have started self-employment/started their own business with the support of Menta; and there are 178 active participants being supported by the coaching service at Realise Futures.

Post-16 capacity fund 2023-24 is now open for bids

Post-16 Capacity Fund 2023 to 2024

Guidance for Applicants
September 2022

The next round of the post-16 capacity fund launched on 7 September 2022, inviting bids from eligible post-16 providers for capital funding to add extra capacity where there is a pressing need for places for 16 to 19-year-olds in their local area.

The post-16 capacity fund will deliver the government's 2021 spending review commitment to invest £155 million in capital over 3 years (2022 to 2025). In this bidding round, providers can bid for a share of £140m to deliver projects creating additional capacity, ensuring there are enough places in their local area to manage the projected demographic increase in 16-19 learners.

48 providers have already benefited from the £83 million spending commitment in 2021 to 2022 and the £15m funding made available in 2022 to 2023, provided a boost to the economy and the education system so all young people gain the skills they need to progress and get a good job.
